A LETTER-CARRIER'S THEFT.

ARRESTED THIS MORNING FOR REMOVING STAMPS FROM LETTERS.

They Were Cancelled, and What Offense He Can Be Held On Is Puzzling the Authorities-He Was an Awful Crank on Stamp Collecting-He Will Be Tried on His Wedding Day.

George Roth, a letter-carrier connected with the General Post Office, was arrested at 7 o'clock this morning charged with stealing cancelled stamps from letters mailed in for-

Policeman O'Connor made the arrest and locked him up in the City Hall Police Station. Post-Office Inspector George P. Stewart made the complaint. United States Commissioner Shields was in a quandary as to what charge the fellow could be held on.

It is the first case of the kind on record. Roth received his appointment as lettercarrier five months ago. He is a crazy looking German, undersized and swarthy, and is shout twenty-nine years old. For four weeks past numbers of letters from foreign countries have been found in the misboxed department without any stamps on them.

Many complaints have also been received of letters expected but not received. many companies have also been received.

Ten days ago Inspector Stewart was detailed to discover the thief. He went to work in the letter-carriers' department, He suspected Roth the first moment he saw him, and thereafter gave him his whole attention.

The suspected man's movements puzzled the Inspector. His own route was always carefully and faithfully delivered.

The Inspector noticed, though, that before starting out on his daily tour Roth would dive into the boxes of other carriers adjacent to his and sort over the letters, He noticed him watch his chance and shove something into his pocket nearly every time.

his pocket nearly every time.

The Inspector was positive that it was not letters, and for a long time he could not make up his mind what it was. Then it dawned on him that Roth was one of that class of cranks called "stamp collectors."

He determined then to have him arrested, and did so, as stated this morning.
When searched at the police station nearly two hundred stamps were found in Roth's uniform pocket. They were mostly rare foreign stamps.

suniform nocket. They were mostly rare foreign stamps.

He confessed to stealing them, but said he did not think he was committing a crime, as the stamps be took were all cancelled. He vohemently asserted that he never stole a letter or anything but the stamps. These he would neatly shave off the envelopes with a thin, sharp knife blade.

Roth was taken before Commissioner Shields and Assistant District-Attorney Rose, where, at the suggestion of the Commissioner, he waived examination.

Bail was fixed at $250, which was furnished by Adolph Lowenthal, who keeps a restaurant as 41 Delancey street.

The Assistant District-Attorney advised Roth, when he should be tried, to ask the Court to impose a fine, as the matter was not

Court to impose a fine, as the matter was not of sufficient importance for imprisonment, no ill effects having resulted from his small derime.

Mr. Lowenthal was ordered to produce Roth on Jan. 9 next, the day fixed for his trial. After a few moments' conversation with his friends, Roth begged for the appointment of some other day, as the 9th was the day set for his wedding.

His betrothed, Rosie Rodgesska, a darkeyed Jewess, bent her head anxiously towards the Commissioner, vainly endeavoring to suppress the tears, as she awaited Mr. Shields's reply.

On learning that the time of the wedding was set at 5 o clock on that day, the Commis-sioner reassured them that the trial would occupy but a few moments, and would in no way interfere with the ceremony.

"But, sir," said koth, swallowing a sob,

"It's not a pleasant thought to be married one day and locked up the next."

He was informed that there was no likelihood of such an event, and temporary happiness once more reigned.
In a few remarks made to Roth, Mr. Rose informed him that his offense was not a serions one, the only thing being the delay-informed him that his offense was not a serious one, the only thing being the delays likely to occur from the absence of the stamps and the temptations which might arise from handling letters containing money. Roth feels his position keenly, and seems greatly cast down by the position in which he finds himself placed.

He has been in the postal service but five months, having been appointed under the Eight-Hour law.

He boards at 42 Clinton street, both his parents being dead.

MINSTREL FRANCIS'S STABBING.

His Ante-Mortem Statement to Be Taken-

Coroner Levy was summoned to Bellevue Hospital to-day to take the ante-mortem statement of Louis Francis, the colored musician of 196 Greene street, who was stabbed in the abdomen late last night in front of Casey's liquor store, corner of Grand and Thompson streets.

At the time the row occurred a number of At the time the row occurred a number of colored men were in the saloon. Francis came in to quench his thirst. He was immediately spied by William Scott, alias Al Peterson, another colored man, who at once began to abuse him. He was seconded by Charles Garner, of 87 Sullivan street, and a bootblack named Samuel Schwartz, who lives at 181 South Fifth avenue.

They quarrelled for a while when suddenly Schwartz drew a a penknite which he handed Officers O'Brien and Hackett to-day arrested Scott, Garner and Schwartz. They were arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court and remanded to await the result of the injuries inflicted on Francis.

Ab, Yes! It Was the Pills. Among the dozens of delinquents at Essex Market this morning, was Emma Wright, a tall, angular woman, against whom a charge of intoxication had been preferred.

"I'll tell you how it was," she murmured "You see. Judge, I was out with a party of friends and drank two glasses of soda water and a glass of beer."

"That wouldn't make you drunk," observed Justice Gorman.

"I know it, Your Honor," replied the woman.
"but when I was a-going home I took half a dozen pills. That's what did it."
"You're fined $10 all the same, replied the Court. AN ACTRESS'S POCKETBOOK.

The woman's pocket was cut loose on one side, allowing a space large enough for the introduction of a good sized package. Upon further investigation, a canvas shop-lifter's bag was brought to light. It had been fastened about her waist by a string.

The bag was full, and on opening it they brought to light a curious assortment of stuff. First there were five pocketbooks, three old ones and two new, a unit of gloves and a pair of red Jersey undervests. The undervests would fit a skeleton while the woman was fully 160 pounds in weight. Two pair of meu's stockings and several pieces of cheap jewelry comprised the find.

The number of bright women who no longer doubt that PEARLINE saves time, labor, wear and tear in all washing and cleaning, and is withal perfectly harmless, reaches millions-and increases daily-a fact proven by the consumption of the article, which is equal to two packages a year for every family in the land.

Every pound Package of Pearline which you give away will enable a poor woman to do in half a day, washing or cleaning that would consume a whole day if done in the ordinary way, with soap; besides, the work will be well and easily done, and the things washed (as well as the woman herself) will not be rubbed to pieces. We think most women would appreciate such a present. To prove all this, get a package of PEARLINE from your grocer, and wash or clean something by the laborsaving directions which are on every package.
